1652 Mother Brown @ The Coach and Horses, Chertsey 08/12/2015

This nice little pub, hidden round the corner from the centre of Chertsey was the setting for our first of two Festive Runs, even before Christmas, so there ! Mother Brown was beside himself, telling us not to forget the date of this run. Ummmm. We roared off into the streets of Chertsey, as there are not many green bits to run across. We did enjoy some cracking Christmas decorations though, which was good! Visitors tonight were Esther back again with her friend Chris, and would you believe it, even George, our new Dad of six months, was given a night off, to share with us, woo hoo! Jo was with us, and Tracy too, and Sausage out walking again. Naked Chef & Top Man were here as was Spanish Mistress and Sodden Assets. A highlight was the delicious 'Sip' stop near the end where Ron's Santa dressed wife very kindly served us hot mince pies and a sip of port, delicious it was.....yummy. Meanwhile, for ten minutes while we were eating, poor Worzel was getting himself lost in a pickle trying to find the trail again. Thank goodness, he arrived finally. The Coach & Horses was originally a school, built way back in 1860, and is mentioned in Dicken's book, Oliver Twist ! Chips were delightfully served in this cosy, well lit pub, and a happy time was had by all of us! See you next week in Byfleet ! Curry up.....On On

1653 Kung Foo Panda @ The Raj Put, Byfleet 15/12/2015

It was brilliant, run was excellent, food was superb.....and the Hare got it just right!

1654 Spanish Mistress & Sodden Assets @ The Olde Swan, Chertsey 22/12/2015

Living up to a hash handle is a tough thing to do. In public at least, but Sodden Assets certainly manages to lay on some water when called upon. He should be sold to drought ridden countries ! Along with his glamorous assistance Spanish Mistress the pair set a whooper from the olde Swan in ye olde Chertsey town. A town known for two motorways and a sewage plant which is a shame because it is one of the oldest market towns in England. It was also the home of Blanche Herriot, a young woman who liked to cling to a bell end. Now that is not to remain mute about.

The pack gathered under what shelter they could before sprinting off following the Cygnals. Poor old Matt crunched his car on some sneaky posts but showed remarkable Sang-froid quite frankly.

Not wishing to Trumpeter the skills of the hares too much, it was a hearty loop, Cobbled together, round the back passages of Chertsey, a bit of hanging about in the park, and a few dark alleys. Nothing Pensive about this trail. A final loop across the Abbey river and upping over the M25, took us into some much needed shiggy, with the pack showing the better part of valour by unanimously taking the short cut and avoiding the lake loop. Many half naked bodies were seen in the high street as everyone stripped off wet gear and proceeded to the pub.

Chips were served all over, as everyone steamed dry, and cake was served to the lucky few (displaying a piss poor ability with a knife). Lots of salutations and indeed twas Christmas ! Well down hares, another great one. They can set a run anatidae ! Go figure !

1655 Andrew @ The Station Pub, West Byfleet 29/12/2015

Hey, have I got some gossip for you guys, I sure have, as we enter another year, is it really 2016 ?? Many goodly souls came out for a Christmas run tonight, and we had some visitors, which was great too. Satisfaction Guaranteed arrived from Guildford Hash, plus Is It Safe, our Sydney Boy made good here in Pommie land. Can you believe , he cooked for SIXTEEN on Christmas Day, aided by ample supplies of the Amber Nectar ! Our Hares, Andrew, he of the tight orange T shirt and his son Pocket Rocket decided to try and teach us some NEW Hash symbols, F for Fishhook, which meant you had to go to the back of the pack, when you found it.....yes really.

Also, Boob Check, which supposedly means all the girls have to check, while the men stand around, well not on Weybridge Hash....Tits Up to that.....nice try though. We had a nice watery run though with little flour, up and down the banks of the River Wey, on numerous occasions, could have done some night fishing even.. Back to the pub, with the Young People strolling in, all dressed up. Chips did cometh and All were there. Sausage and his son Chipolata, Len, Mother Brown, Naked Chef, Tracy, Alan Spanish Mistress & Sodden Assets, Tight Git, and I guess a few were on holiday. We had some fun though, Great Bear was on good form, and Kung Foo Panda was on it. A jolly night in a jolly pub, service was good, and friendly....impressed. Very Happy New Year to All of You.....let's celebrate....See you on 5 January ! xx

Apparently, this used to be a biker's pub, hmmm well it has gone very upmarket since then, quite the transition, and very good and welcoming at that. All the cars turned up at the Drive In for the movie, but there wasn't one, we had to go for a run instead !! Our intrepid Hare Andy told us to look out for a few false trails, and a lot of splish splosh. Horsell Common was our playground for the night, and a big one at that. Tracy did not headbutt any trees, and Mary was not here to fall into any ditches, or Sophie! We raced on, and on, and into the slush we went, luckily no ponds to fall in. Up to our ankles we were, but hey ho, it's all a good laugh, and the pub is our ultimate goal. So, cheers to that. 5.4 miles of mucky woodland we ran through and back. Steaming car windows did occur, but it was not Dingaling's fault this time. The pub was GOOD, and 4 huge bowls of chips did appear, and then disappear. Andy and son Billy did us proud, and Weybridge Hashstill rocks! Mother Brown, Len, Worzel, Pig Pen Matt, Top Man & Naked Chef, Sausage, and young Jo all raced along. We had to straddle a few five bar gates, but we did not care...We are WEYBRIDGE! On On.....HAPPY NEW YEAR to ALL!
