Wurzel

@ The Fairmile, Cobham

10/07/2018

We were back to a favourite location next to excellent woodland hence Wurzel picking this one. Trees galore as we set off into them, plenty of flour laid, so easy to follow. We went downhill through some cracking birch trees, and up and down all over the place, nice mystery route through the heathland. Torch very useful tonight, no fallers, and we all raced on, all over Esher Common, West End Common, Fairmile Common, and Black Hills. Wurzel took us across to Black Pond and did not go right towards Cobham but back towards Esher, and then looped right round through the sand and shrubs towards where we came from eventually, it was a great run, as we wound our way towards Stoke D'Abernon, then back down to the main road, and into the tree laden pub gardens. Good beers on offer at this Chef and Brewer, and even Pig Pen found the high wooden seats amusing, legs a dangling. Hannah was back with us, to sample her friend's quality orienteering style run. Megabit was pleased as punch, finding a beer named after him, so he is famous ! Great Bear graced us with his presence recovering from a horse fly bite....oh errrr. Mother Brown and Wasser and Ard'On Provocateur all in attendance. We had a right laugh, Colonel Knob Cheese looking very happy with life, and we have a treat next week, off to Hampton. So, come and join us !

Naked Chef & TopMan

@ The Railway Bell, Hampton

17/08/2018

Quaint little pub, originally six Georgian cottages built in 1711, but becoming a public house when the railway arrived in 1864, and being built beside the railway line, but none the worse for it either. The group of runners got bigger, and then we were off, down Station road and past the shops, seeming to disappear off to the High street, but oh no, back we came by The Telephone Exchange alleyway and yes, en route to Bushy Park...wey hey ! Opposite the River Thames, we made our way along Lime Avenue, and then across to a nice stream, saw a Heron nesting, before hearing the roaring mating calls of the Deer as they prepared to lock horns yet again. We got right alongside the Diana Fountain, designed in 1637 for King Charles I, for his wife and moved from the Privy Garden in Hampton Court Palace to here in 1713, where it has stood proudly ever since. We were carefully guided through the deer by Naked Chef and Top Man as we headed for the Dukes Head gate by Hampton Open Air Swimming Pool. Back through residential streets to our Pub known as The Dip. Festivities were special, as we celebrated our previous Grand Master, Trevor's mighty 80th Birthday, wow what a milestone, and still running too ! On and On, kind Spanish Mistress Linda had made a huge and delicious Beetroot cake, which Megabit could not resist and All ate a piece or took it home ! Many thanks, and a great run too, Mother Brown and Great Bear, Master Bates plus many others joined us, on this six mile run, according to Megabit. Tonight, Jo was back, also Dingaling brought a Virgin Hasher Richard, who enjoyed himself, and we had a great time in this cosy village pub. Come and join us next week ! Many regular Runners seem to have gone astray, where are you All ? At this rate, we won't see you until Winter 2018. Do not miss these evenings, they are very special, sitting on the sofa is not an option.

Tosser

@ The Monkey Puzzle

02/10/2018

Nice sprawling restaurant chain pub, and similar car park, but busy of course. Lord Tosser had set himself the challenge of creating a Run, which had to circumvent the borders of Chessington World of Adventures, not so easy, but we will see. A good pack arrived, with torches in hand, we set off uphill, past the Tiger Field, and eventually reached a series of long footpaths, running beneath the canopies of trees for a long way. We went up to the top of a hill first, past a Memorial stone and back down again, ending up running in an area within the Crown Estate, Great Oaks, 108 acres of ancient woodland and then Prince's Coverts, Oxshott, named after the King of the Belgians, in 1831, who lived nearby at Claremont Park until 1865. An attractive Wood comprising mature Oaks, and smaller Ash and Hornbeam, it seemed a magical journey we were on, Harry Potter...ish. Claygate Common also was included in our route. Quite a good up and downer this evening, although very stony underfoot, insoles needed for some. We ended up with about a 5 miler to finish as we ran through Vulture Field back to the car park. A good work out was had, and then, a bit of a wait to get served in here, few staff around, but nice roomy surroundings for us to natter in. We are deciding what to do for our Christmas do ? General consensus, and budgets suggest we may go with.....Social Club and a live band led by Nettle Rash..aka our good friend Andy. Hope you are available ?? Tonight Casey was back again, with that super smile, and Dingaling's new keen runner Richard too. Fish and Chips..aka Anna also joined us, good to see you ! Also big news, our 1800th Run is coming up quickly, we need to decide on the best design for a T shirt, Megabit is the front runner maybe, so hurry up and decide All ! We want to buy one soon. Spelling correction needed.....Wurzel is his name, and running is his game. On On to next week, so do come and join us. Tosser kindly bought us chips tonight, but the pub strangely did not provide enough of what was ordered. Never mind, another great night was had by All ! Quite a lot of you are going to Dingaling's ...Musical in Kingston this weekend, so have fun there !

1798 Wasser @ The Griffin, Claygate 09/10/2018

Beautifully hidden away in the residential streets of leafy Claygate, this promised to be another Wasser gem, possibly a walk, a run or a pony ride ! We started off looking for flour, Kebab & Dingaling were lost at the first check, they had checked too much, and came back to find everyone gone, and the check not marked through. It was a very inventive run, and we had nice visitors tonight Mable & Able, husband and wife sailors who have already been half way round the World. They are a right laugh.....Dingaling cheekily asked wife Able, if Mabel was.....wait for it.....Able ! Quick as a flash, she said 'Only on the kitchen table !! Also, our dear friend Belinda was back with us again, not seen for a few years sadly, great to see you too ! She enjoyed a nice walk with Trevor as we headed from Claygate Common onto roads and then into Arbrook Common in the dark. Lord Tosser seemed to know the route, all too well. We need to buy Wasser bags of flour for his Birthday, but the run was very good Sir ! Back in the pub, hot and sweaty, pints of Wandle were on offer, Sambrook's Brewery located by the mouth of the said river and Battersea Power station that was. Countless bowls of chips did appear. Many thanks Wasser, and Mrs Robinson was back smiling and running again, about time Missy !!! Also good to see Tight Git, Kung Foo Panda, Naked Chef and Top Man all doing their thing ! No Jo this week, and Pussy Galore must have gone back to Barbados for the next Bond movie, but Grand Mistress Ruth & Jonathan had flown in from Italy. We had a wonderful night, in this quality pub, and will be back for more soon. Next week, Teddington way, near Bushy Park ! Be there, or no cake for you ! Remember you can put your order in for the very stylish 1800th Celebratory green T shirt, well worth having one or two.....On On.

Dingaling

@ The Roebuck, Hampton Hill

16/10/2018

WH3 seems to have spent a lot of time in bushes over the last month or so. Sorry I mean Bushey Park. Once parking was sorted (KFP managed to find a parking space right outside the pub so not far to stubble and that was the driver!) . Superb route around Hampton Hill and Bushy Park with flour that appears to be consumed by a myriad of wild life (crows where mentioned to being partial to a bit of flour, perhaps also bees as they also like flower). Being up the front I'd didn't hear much gossip (feel free to chip in if you did or just make something scandalous up). A good six miler avoiding the rutting deer who most definitely have the horn(s) and back to the most excellent pub. All those houses that have been decluttered appears to have given stuff to The Roebuck. If you are missing fishing rods, signs, weird and wonderful currencies from around the globe then The Roebuck is the place to go. A good turn out and some excellent beer. Great work DingALing. Now on to next week with our GM laying a stunning trail befitting of our 1800th run. No pressure.
