1667*Andy*@ The Percy Arms, Chilworth*22/03/2016

As we arrived at 8 o'clock everybody was ready to go and there was no waiting. After my shoes were on, we were off. As soon as I realised that Andy the Stinging Nettle (SN) was the hare I guessed it would be an 'ultra' hash. 'Oh no' I thought, 'it's going to be very long evening'. Dad made me hash with Guildford on the Monday and will make me hash with Barnes tomorrow on Wednesday. Apparently hashing is good for the sole! No idea what that means, it just seems to wear out the soles on my very expensive trainers! Talking of which, there are 3 types of trainers, running shoes, bought only from running shops which need to be tried on, videoed in motion on the treadmill and are thus very expensive. Second there are 'pub' trainers which have to be the very latest fashion statement and thus are very expensive. And finally there are 'Dad' trainers which are bought online, are at least 2 seasons old, look rubbish and cost nothing! Also on the other hashes we run on, if you wear new shoes you have to drink beer out of them at the end during down downs. I have mixed feeling about that, at 15 I am becoming keen on access to beer but it would depend on where we had run on whether or not I would drink willingly from my trainers no matter how new.

SN said it's very hilly and not too long but he didn't tell us there would be a grand total of 3 checks throughout the whole route. He also told us that there was a technical bit in the middle which we later worked was code for; even longer and even hillier. On the other hand I was pleasantly surprised with the 'on sit'. On the way out, Golden B*%$£s won the tumbling tosser award for pilling in near the old ruin (that's not one of our senior hashers, or is it?). Apparently multi-tasking like running and looking where you are going is a struggle. We ran up the whole time, a bench was available at the on-sit, it is said that the view from there is really nice but it wasn't visible at night. We were either really late or SN was playing with us – 'look what you could have seen'!

The pack became split, those who ran up hills (not much choice as explained earlier it was up or nothing till the end) and those who thought up-running was a bit brash. In the on-up club, there were, for most the run, only 4 people alongside me. They were renamed as the 'advanced party'. However, they were overtaken by some shortcutters (lost) near the end. This brought the pack closer together.

Back in the pub it was very pleasant. They kept bringing in the chips, I must have shared 3 bowls with some mayo and a drank a small shandy :). SN eventually came back, he ran the route backwards looking for his missing hashers only to find they had managed to avoid his search and find their own way home.

I Enjoyed the run a lot and I think Andy did a very good job. The route was very clearly marked but I must recommend the use of checks and flats to taunt the front runners and keep us together. On the other hand those back to the pub first do get more chips so.....

1668*Simon & Dave*@ The Pelican, Addlestone*29/03/2016

Just about the entire membership of WH3 turned out to hare this run. Well, 3 of them anyway and there's a joke in there somewhere. Something along the lines of "How many men does it take to .... etc. Well, we know the answer now if the question is "A run" but as to what they were all doing, now that we will leave for another day.

A goodly turnout for this return to the birthplace of WH3. If you are too young to know about that, get hold of that old timer Master Bates, aka as Lord Letchfield, and ask him. His memory is not bad when he's having a good day and provided you get him before he's drunk too much of his second pint. But, never ask him before he's got that 2nd pint in his hand otherwise it'll cost you.

Anyway, the run. It never rains on the righteous and so a thoroughly wet and miserable day gave way to dryness at 8. In the sky at least if not underfoot. Certainly not underfoot. The quagmire along the Wey Navigation towpath gave way to the swamps of Hamm Court and thence to the bayous of Chertsea Meads. Slipping and sliding along the banks of the Bourne, and there were a few slithers there. Tumbling Tossers they might be called on other hashes but that would be disrespectful to the GM. And so back to the Pelican in fact in good order and good time. All professed to have enjoyed the run, or those that didn't charge off in a huff with a soggy bottom. And the pub / hares looked after us. Good beer and bountiful chips. What more could a hasher ask of a Tuesday night

1669                      Tight Git    @ The Winning Horse, Claygate    05/04/2016

On a slightly chilly Spring evening, runners appeared from all parts despite the burst water main, in the High Street. Even a pub without the hint of a sign outside ! Malcolm, Rupert, Trevor, Louise & Geoff, Neil, all the top brass were here, even Agent Provocateur Len, and many more. This is a tough area to set a run, a bit nondescript, but Tight Git imaginative as ever, took us off into the darkness, torches flashing and no fallers tonight. We ran all round Esher Commons, Arbrook Lane, and even on the in trail, we were taken up Telegraph Hill, and nearly off to Chessington ! However, safely back in the 70's style pub with décor from the 70's, and the fishtank and carpet, we munched our way through crisps and Tribute Ale from Cornish brewers, much appreciated. Andrew and son Pocket Rocket were racing round. Spanish Mistress & Sodden Assets were in town, plus Jo, who is off to Scotland next week and even Andy and son Billy, plus Dingaling returned refreshed from the Phuket sunshine and ladies !! A very good run Giles ! Daffodils aplenty and Spring has sprung.....Don't miss next week in Horsell. On On....

1670                      Kerry & Tracy    @ The Cricketers, Horsell    12/04/2016

Weybridge Hashers had a treat tonight, The..... Kerry & Tracy Show was in town. We arrived at The Cricketers to find the biggest Quiz night ever..... So, we got told by K & T said 'Right You lot' off you go for a 10K run, and then we will give you .....what was it ? Oh yes.....FREE beer and chips....so off we went. Visitors tonight were Hanging About from North Hampshire Hash, great to see you. Ruth was back from the fleshpots of Delhi, sorry I meant Food Shops.... Sodden Assets Mark is busy building a Shepherds Hut by the Thames.....anything for money !! Pig Pen Matt apparently was here, on the run, but not seen in the pub ?? A supa dupa run, whisking us off into woodland to start, and taking us all over the shop past lakes, even into the centre of Woking's Jubilee Walk. Back over the river Wey and a cleverly constructed and adventurous route, (apparently set on their bikes) was complete. The pub was heaving, but we did not care, we were given the old part of the pub next to the Ladies, which pleased Tossers no end. Lo and behold, fat chips did cometh.....yummy ! Kung Foo Panda, Great Bear & Sausage were also seen loitering by the Ladies ?? Poor Dingaling was just missing his sexy Thai girlfriend.....again. A funny old night, our Star Ladies Kerry & Tracy delivered.....no surprise there....a top run girls ! Thankyou. Here's to the next one...On On.....Great Bookham next week

Kung Foo Panda

@ Ye Olde Windsor Castle, Great Bookham

19/04/2016

And so to Great Bookham for Kung Foo Panda's marathon. A good sized pack turned up along with Great Bear in his shiny new motor and KFP promised us a short run. Most of WH3 know that short is a term that can be open to interpretation! So off we set along roads weaving our way through the burbs of Great Bookham then across Bookham Common and straying in to Little Bookham (no idea where the city limits of Great and Little are!) The route was nicely laid and kept the pack together. Before we knew it the pub could clearly be seen so no word of a lie that this was indeed a short run (thus a short run write up!) by KFP standards. Excellent chips of all shapes, sizes and varieties were laid on with a couple of members from the Surrey hash (Chunderos & Tequil'over) turning up to swell numbers. Onon
