Nice to be out in the sticks again, the historic town of Chertsey dates back to 666 AD, when Erkenwald became the Bishop of London, and established an Abbey with a water mill and a tributary that loops back into the Thames, known as the Abbey river, which is still blessed once a year to this day ! Chertsey is mentioned in Oliver Twist, as the scene of Oliver's burglary. Now, our run was enticing, given the heads up, we were in for a 6 miler, we set off, keen to enjoy our surroundings, and we were not disappointed, a very enjoyable run Megabit, 4 stars ! Visitors tonight were Mother Brown, here with us for 3 months at least, absconding from his Melbourne beach house, to check out all his many Pommy friends, as you know down under, we were called Poms, because those individuals arriving down under 200 years ago, were Prisoners of His Majesty's Service. Now any Brit back home here, is tarred with that slang nick name. Tonight, we had a great run, round most of Chertsey, and including a run up St Anne's Hill near the end, before arriving back in the pub. Thyme at The Tavern was CAMRA pub of the year back in 2017 no mean feat ! No chef tonight, so chips were off, lots of crisps were supplied, and much banter was flowing. Great Bear was aghast that Dingaling did not know, Guinness have stopped making ring pull cans, which were apparently, affecting Turtles in the deep ocean, rather odd, but apparently true. They are certainly not in the high street ! Perhaps we could improve 100% on all the plastic we drop into the sea, which kills precious sealife. Kung Foo Panda was waxing lyrical on the joys of Almeria in Spain, or perhaps that was last week, anyway, it sounds a great city, in Andalusia, on the Mediterranean sea. Ard'On Provocateur was busy selling his baby plants in the pub again, what is he up to ? It's a great life, being a Weybridge Hasher, come along next week and join us, it is still light in the evening, a real treat for us all

The excitement building, our runners eager to test their brains, oops I meant leg muscles against the skills of our two hot ladies, Pussy Galore & Legover. We had a ball, luxurious residences, roads double size, enough trees to start a forest. We had Scottish pine, Fir trees, and some gorgeous Giant Cedars, well over 100 feet high, as we ran round this very interesting route, which took in The Basingstoke Canal, and the lovely Woking Golf Club course later on. We were showered with plentiful supplies of flour, and Hares, Tracy & Kerry kept popping up in different places, to encourage us on, it was a shade over six miles, just right really. Visitors tonight were Colonel Knob Cheese, beaming from ear to ear, and if you are up to it, eager to pose on the road, with his large eggs !!! He needs a Doctor, too big. Dingaling's friend Ricardo returned, keen to get his running back on track. Also, 2 newbies tonight, from Aldershot, Rizzo and his partner 50 Shades, nice names eh eh ! Note to self, need to buy some sexy underwear for the next beach holiday ! The cheeky monkeys, Spanish Mistress & Sodden Assets returned from Italy, and Flash Boy Jack Russell turned up in his new Caterham, freshly built by self, a top job there son with Grand Master Doner in tow. Wurzel, Kung Foo Panda, Naked Chef & Top Man, all on it. It was a glitzy night, we took over the nice pub, were given mountains of chips, thanks Girls, most generous of you both. I think we will give this Run a 9. More tea vicar.....next week's gonna have a tough job to beat this! Where are you Matt, and Jo Hack? You missed a right treat. Master Bates had the nerve to offer his stinky Durian and Coconut nibbles, testing our friendship levels to the max ! The fruit is banned in most top Hotels in Asia. See you All next week for sure, On On...

EXTRA, EXTRA, EXTRA !! Rumoured Roo run round rich realty confirmed !!

Eye witness accounts have confirmed that Roo Devereux (aged 106) did indeed set a run from the Mucky Duck in Ockham (pop.4) on a Tuesday evening. Insider sources identified what appeared to be a coach load of care in the community types leaving the said car park around 8pm. Sources, who cannot be named, or indeed found, described the so called runners as looking a bit like spastics rolling down a hill, but going up ! Spotted disappearing into Wisley Common, nefarious activities were expected, but reports indicate no strange wood was seen apart from a large erection on the hill. Proving to be a cunning roos (shurely shome mishtake) odd characters were later seen crossing the runway of the Cayman Islands International Airport. Police reports would probably have suggested that sitings were also made in old Ockham town (but obviously there are no police in Surrey, thanks Theresa) and our man on the spot interviewed a number of small cows who were clearly not a-moos-ed at so much rustling in one evening. Staff at the pub confirm that fine chips and good beer were served and that some, if not all of them are now undergoing treatment for PTSD. Ps news just in, Mark's internal compass needs a reset. Tosser

@ Hogsmill, Worcester Park

A mere 10 hashers made it into deepest darkest London (Worcester Park) for a surprisingly enjoyable run. I've lived only 4 miles from this location for over a year and never knew there was so much open green space to be found. Our 10k route set out by tosser snaked around the Tolworth area with a good mix of rural/urban and plenty of flour to keep us going in the right direction. We eventually made it back to the pub where more than one of us had to phone the pub, whilst sitting inside, in order to get the bar mans attention and get our well deserved refreshments, no chips but there was buckets of crisps for us to devour which kept everyone happy! A most enjoyable run and I must say it's great to be back amongst the hashers for the coming torch free summer season....on on! Col Knobcheese
