Winners before we started, Kerry and I swung into the car park at The Crown, first! Hard on our heels came Ruth and Alan and a few minutes later, the usual suspects, ready for a soggy start. The first leg of the run, took us down an ordinary looking street, where clearly marked was a Cock Tree.. it was only when Linda moved her foot from the flour indicator we realised, it was in fact, a Cork Tree, handy had we needed to float!! Mark and Linda were in great shape, post Antipodean adventure. Skirting Sythwood and along the canal, with Rupert intoning our rallying cry, the run split into two, those following flour and those errmm, who may not have been! With apologies to Wurzel. We all made it, via a circuitous trail to an extremely soggy patch of long grass, prior to hitting Goldsworth Lake. Thanks heavens for the FRB.. Simon, Neil and Mark who deflected the various on-backs. Alan, Louis and Geoff for encouragement and Trevor, et al, for ensuring no one was left behind! By this time we were all sodden and the Horsell Birch area ensured anyone without GTX footwear squelched their way into the last leg of shiggy paths and winding passageways, terminating in an, on back, nick named Tracy Back Alley (thanks for pointing that out Kerry) The Crown was cosy with firelight and bonhomie, which become positively riotous Deer Deer!! on arrival of huge quantities of freshly cooked chips (an impromptu feast for those in the public bar too!) and thoughtfully purchased condiments! Bravo to our Hare, Master Bates. So that was 4.7 miles, run in great company, with my apologies to those I have not named check and a wish for Nigel to resume his usual run report next week.. TTFN

Hey we are cooking on gas at Weybridge Hash ! Megabit out getting down and dirty to set this Hash for us. We were keen, torches in hand, bobble hats on.....off we go ! Streets to start, then slowly and cleverly winding our way through the fields and muddy woodlands around Addlestone & Chertsey. Cracking terrain, just purrfect for us kittens. Visitors tonight were Steve & James, both painted yellow, and the tall one, had knee high canary yellow socks, you gotta have big balls to wear those ! Er.....yes. A warm welcome to you both, see you again very soon. Also our lady from Shepperton, Chris had injured calf muscles, and this was her first run for 7 months.....a big bravo to you getting round. XX Spanish Mistress gave Dingaling a right ol' rollicking for missing last week's run, he was a bit put out. Master Bates, Wasser, Lord Tosser & Agent Provocateur were up for verbal mischief..... Great Bear, Top Man & Naked Chef, increased our VIP count. Yessiree ! Katie and Tracy were up to dirty talk in the woods, which the Boys like, so that was good. After 5 and a half miles, our Hare deserves a Gold Star for this one, and then into a trendy pub, where he bribed the bar girls to make us not just chips, but nachos and onion rings.....oh my Lordee ! Betty Stogs was a Cornishwoman in a folktale, and now has a beer named after her. So a famous Bitter for the boys too, and Lager for the men, what a night ! Fabuloso ! Don't for goodness sake miss next week's run. X

TopMan & Naked Chef

@ The Barley Mow, Epsom

14/01/2017

Well hearts were fluttering all round Epsom way last night, the men were running and women were smiling, as Weybridge Hashers painted the town red, on their famous red dress run ! Tudor England returned, as gossip and scandal was rifeconfidences were gained and secrets quietly confided in.....like what you ask ? Sodden Assets Mark turned up as Fred Flintstone, Master Bates had on a onesie, which suited him and Megabit had a very hot fluffy redoh onesie on, to bake in. His wife Charlotte turned up in a stylish number, and goodness me.....Kung Foo Panda had a flouncy shirt red dress with big tits.....good on you Neil , you've got some front, you have !! Kebab was dressed as Santa, Great Bear was a Choir Master in red, and Neil was plying his trade at traffic lights ! Private Parts Andrew was back with Pocket Rocket son in tow. Dishy Dave and Ard'on Provocateur added some spice to our night. Dingaling had no dress, but a pair of devil horns and a tail, I ask you ?? Spanish Mistress told Dingaling to stop tittering on.....oh er. Wasser was fined for wearing no red ? You could say, at the off we looked like... The Alabama Church choir, without the voices....pretty much correct, we sailed off into the sunset round a great trail of constant clever alleys, circumventing the perimeter of the town. Super Run Naked Chef and Top Man ! Thanks.....into the pub.....we had our own nook.....to gossip in. One man after a pint, confided to a bit of cross dressing, your secret is safe with me. Katie fresh from her attempt on climbing Blencathra in the Lake district was full of beans. Another saucy night with Weybridge Hash, you can't beat it on a Tuesday night! On On. Where were you Kerry, and Pig Pen Matt ?

Tight Git

@ The Blue Ball, Tadworth

21/02/2017

A very suitable venue for a Hash, top of a hill, heavily green and wooded giving us the chance we hope of saying goodbye to Winter! Tight Git, our hare for tonight, laid on a cracking run, taking in every bit of heathland, shiggy and roads where necessary to create a very interesting route, including many clever checks that tricked us completely. Not a lot of lighting round this area, but we are street smart, we can handle it. Good to see Pig Pen Matt back with us again, and ever smiling Katie brought her young friend Josh, who enjoyed himself immensely running like the wind, everywhere! Plus Lego-ver Kerry out to improve her fitness training, always a pleasure. We had fun, then we went into this giant pub, with bookshelves everywhere, and of course golf memorabilia, from the famous course Walton Heath, locally, and horse racing too. Tight Git plied us with crisps, some dreaming of free drink or holidays.....whoops. We chatted about the exciting year ahead, and things we can do to entertain our runners, should be great fun, woo hoo! No saucy stuff tonight, apart from Megabit getting mesmerised by a couple of tits in a bottle!! Down BoyWe are taking you all the way to Dorking next week, and a very special room you will be sitting in, hidden away in the delightful pub, courtesy of C.S.Lewis no less. No trainers in the special room please. See you there, On On !

Dingaling

@ The Old House, Dorking

28/02/2017

On the last day of February, we all met in the West Street car park eager to see where Dingaling was going to take us. A predictable start through the cosy little cottages, which then led us uphill, one of many tonight, before entering The Denbies Wine Estate, home to the largest vineyard in the UK, some 265 acres planted in 1986, now one of the largest wine producers in the UK, with lovely views across the North Downs. We were chasing the flour all the way to Box Hill & Westhumble station, opened on 11 March 1867. We ran on past The Stepping Stones pub, and then crossed the A24 to the pretty little village, of Pixham, finding our way back into Dorking via the Deepdene Trail, up and down many shaded hidden alleyways finally through Cotmandene just behind Dorking town centre, a nice run of 5 and a half miles, plus checks. Our surprise was in the pub, we walked through a wardrobe with our drinks into..... The Narnia Room, filled with old historical music instruments and books to capture your imagination, it was a treat. Master Bates played the piano, Megabit the Horn, and the rest of us luxuriated in the relaxing surroundings, a sort of 19th century library. A great night for all who came! Oh the life of The Weybridge Hasher, tough to beat eh? Sure is....On On !
