Run Report 2009...The Pelican...ADDLESTONE...12.9.2023
Well history seems to be following us around this week, we actually ran from here on 22 January 2013, it was snowing and -2 degrees, and we were celebrating our 1500th Run, set by Trevor, now Lord Tossler, so there ! And he will be celebrating his Top Secret BIG Birthday on

Monday, so do buy him a drink, in the next few weeks ! Also our Scribe who manages to memorise most things each week, missed out that our Naked Chef Louise had heard some distinctive Tawny Owl sounds, on our run last week, so well done to You ! Note the directions to the Pub next week, will be at the bottom of this Report.  Now the Run tonight, was interesting, we started together, and our Hare, Briain aka Master Bates, created a clever route, weaving around the River Wey, many checks, and eventually we went through the Farmers fields all the way back to Coxes Lock, the oldest Lock on the Wey Navigation, first built way back in 1651. The pub kindly stayed open longer, thanks to our Hare's efforts, and chips did come forth !!! Delicious thanks. We all arrived back, without falling in ! Giles was back, and getting a bit better with his Achilles. Tonight, all the Wise Men were in town, plus Matt, Meriel, who is off to Devon for a few days ! Henry, planning ahead parked his car at The Queen's Head where we WERE going after this Run, until it got changed back, so had to retrieve his car ! Polish Dumplings aka Dhriti, and Ariel were with us again, and will be setting their Virgin Hash in two weeks time, wey hey ! Kebab, wearing his bright yellow figure hugging waterproof with the NEW zip, was asked by Dingaling, ' Aren't You getting a bit hot in there? ' and he replied, ' I LIKE it TIGHT ! ' Oh errrr...umm. Now next week, we are off to beautiful Norbury Park, The Young Street Car Park, in Leatherhead. KT22 9DS. It is a very tight LEFT turn, see CAR PARK sign, as You come under the bridge, from the A25 roundabout, so indicate EARLY. Do NOT go to the other Car Park, at the top of the hill, on the left. After the Run, car directions to The Bell Pub are...LEFT up the hill, 500yds to Roundabout, turn sharp RIGHT, then 20 yds, LEFT into The Ridgway, straight downhill to the next roundabout, across it in to Bell lane, then PARK, wherever You can on the left before the Pub, which is just round the right hand bend. The Bell, Fetcham, KT22 9ND. Dingaling will hope to entertain You !! Do NOT forget your torches, and good trainers, it will be pitch black next week. On On, Autumn is back !

Run	:	2010	19 th September 2023 , 8pm
Hare		Kebab & Pusseye standins for Dingaling	LEATHERHEAD
Start		The Young Street car park Norbury Park, Young Street KT22 9DS

Run	:	2011	26 th September 2023, 8pm
Hare	:	Polish Dumpling	EPSOM
Start	:	The Grumpy Mole Chalk Lane KT18 7AS

Grumpy Mole. Epsom. Run 2011.
The Pressure was on, Virgin Hares. Polish Dumpling and Ariel. Just over a dozen Hashers turned up plus Mother Brown, who before he got in to Hash mode did the longer more complicated tour of Epsom, he claimed arrived in the town at 7.30pm. The route, pushed us out to the Race course up and up we went, past the Grandstand and still up some more. The moon was near full moon and going was firm and dry. The racing odds were even, was it a left or right turn. Down into Langley Vale and up out into the fields, to footpath right. Out on to some black top, down some very opulent housing, gently down into the finishing straight. All well paced and the checks worked well. Worzel was on day five of a running campaign. He is he admits an eccentric runner committed hasher. Dry, warm and nearly moon lit, what a start for our new Hares. The Grumpy Mole was found again at 9 O'clock on the nail, what's not to like! Good beer and a welcome by bar staff who were surprised to see us, all come in just after

9. Comfortable chatter, even a home grown Pumpkin for Naked Chief as Lady Tosser of Weybridge put her foot down on cooking it! We discovered with surprise that Lord and Lady Tosser have been married for 50 years! It was a good deal for them both, and we stand in admiration, what with his notable birthday last week. A fine first effort and great to have two new Hares setting trails! The WH3 Hash has so much to offer, now refreshed with new Hares and even the odd free pumpkin!

Run	:	2012	3rd October 2023, 8pm
Hare	:	Top Man & Naked Chef	KNAPHILL
Start	:	The Garibaldi 134 High Street GU21 2QH

Run report: wh3 #2012 The Garibaldi, Knaphill 03/10/23

So, there I am sitting outside the Garibaldi pub (yes in October) enjoying my pint and along with others, listening to Machinist discussing the merits of vintage motor bikes and side cars, Master Bates on the idiosyncrasies of the first cars he owned and a general discussion on the decline of the British manufacturing industry, when the Great Bear taps me on the shoulder. No, not an offer to buy me a drink but to inform me that in their wisdom, the mismanagement committee, which had convened inside the pub had amongst other things, decided during their machinations, that in view of the continuing absence of our regular scribe I would be volunteered to produce this week's run report. Apparently, that's democracy at work.....

Other committee decisions I believe resulted in agreeing a date for the WH3 Christmas do and a hash trip to Rupert's holiday pad in Shropshire.

Well, normally when I volunteer to write the notes, I include a list of those putting in appearance. This I usually do by checking round those in the car-park and then adding those who put in appearance in the pub to this. Being volunteered this late in the day when many had already left the pub kyboshed this idea, so the list below is entirely dependant on my memory, not helped by having already consumed alcohol and also by the fact that the number of hashers was far larger than the typical for a Weybridge hash (despite the fact that at 19.50 the pack seemed to be heading for a record low with only 3 of us present).

As far as I can remember the pack consisted of Tight Git, Spanish Mistress, Sodden Assets, Machinist, Mother Brown (making his last appearance this season prior to departing to Aus), Master Bates, Pussy Galore (making a rare appearance) Pussyeeye, Kebab, Great Bear, Kung Foo Panda, Ariel, Wurzel (scribe), Skye, Pig Pen, Sausage and Ard 'On Provocateur who joined us in the pub, a visitor from Germany/Fleet which (with the co-hares) makes a total of 20. Apologies to anyone I may have forgotten. Notably missing were Tosser and Wazzer (trail too far from home?) and Ding-a-ling (currently incapacitated, hope you are better soon Ding-a-ling).

Come 20.00 sharp-ish the pack was off. After initially sending me and Kung Foo Panda on a Wild Goose Chase along the A322 rather than a well-hidden footpath, it crossed into Bisley Common where it weaved around before leading onto Sheets Heath and further wanderings before leading to the Basingstoke Canal Tow path. A long thrash along this resulted in the pack becoming well strung out resulting in the need for a re-group (although this turned into a walking regroup rather than a full one).

Being reasonably familiar with the area and the time I was fairly confident that the trail would then cross the Brookwood recreation ground and then through residential roads to come out onto the A322 by the Sainsburys Superstore before a blacktop run back to the pub. The hares had other ideas and after crossing the main road turned right away from the pub before further wiggling around on a mixture of back streets, foot paths and common land that I was unaware of to arrive back at the pub from what to me was a totally unexpected direction.

Thanks to the hares for an interesting trail which had me at least guessing for most of the trail, especially towards the end and in the absence of chips a good supply of crisps, supplemented by generous additions by other hashers.

PS

No history this week partly because Knaphill seems to have little, Wikipedia sums it up as below.....

The village name was first recorded in 1225 as La Cnappe. Since then there have been various spellings of the name including Nap Hill, Naphill and Knap Hill.

In 958 A.D., the village was probably part of land granted to Westminster Abbey; there is clear ownership by 1278. The land passed to Henry VIII on the dissolution of the monasteries in the 1530s.

The Basingstoke Canal was built to the south of Knaphill in 1794 and the railway line came in 1838. In 1859, a prison was built in Knaphill. This was later converted into army barracks.

Run #2013 report from the Shy Horse, Malden Russett

This will be a vague recollection from the night or possibly completely made up. Anyhoos the hare was unable to join us due to an ongoing injury so marking duties were passed to Wurzel for a decent sized pack. Off we set and shortly into the wilds of Rushett Farm, along Bridleway 38, passed Stew Pond, on to Epsom Common and then through the back alleys of Chessington World of Adventures – thanks Garmin. I’m not too sure of much enroute conversation as I got pretty much every check right and was billy no mates up front for most of the evening. The pack regrouped while in Chessington and made it’s way back with extra speed sensing beer was nearby. It was a very pleasant 8.01km and then into the pub which had some lively clientele and many feral children. Attention soon turned to talk about Crimbo and curry so keep your eyes peeled. Hopefully next weeks (now this week’s) scribe will be more diligent and get their report written up in a timely manner.
