Worzel

@ The Fairmile, Cobham

20/02/2018

It was a small pack considering that the hare was, "I'm not at home to Mr Cock-up", Worzel, only just above double figures (if we count him, and, we do). This was a shame since The Fairmile has almost infinite parking. Where are you, the rest of WH3? We were spared his usual "If you're not on flour, you're not on trail" speech but when I asked if, the trail crossed the main road, he answered "The trail goes where the flour is". Fair dos! The clement weather made a well laid run quite pleasant but the recent downpours contributed much shiggy and at least one, almost impassable dose. Wurzel was always fetching up the rear helping stragglers i.e. me! Back at the pub our members (Doner, Naked Chef, Kebab, Col Knob Cheese, Megabit, Le Pro, The Great Bear, Private Parts and me) were swelled by Ardon Provokateur. The latter managed, when he stood up, to bash his head on the low (snooker type) chandelier above our table and then Le Pro followed suit (with even more force). Wurzel had no such trouble! There was no Dingaling, again! Has he emigrated to Thailand? At my age, I shouldn't leave it more than a week to write these reports, Doner was there so I guess there was cake?

Wasser

@ The Willow Tree, Worcester Park

27/02/2018

Another small pack (Top Man, Naked Chef, Tosser, Kebab, Kung Foo Panda, The Great Bear, Tight Git, and Megabit) gathered outside The Willow Tree in Worcester Park. I seem to remember (I do, sometimes, you know) Private Parts but not in the pub when I wrote notes. Again, there was no Dingaling, again!! I think I'm getting withdrawal symptoms. Let's hope he turns up for the next run (his!). This time a small turnout was understandable in view of the "Beast from the East" weather that we had been experiencing and even I was hesitant about going out, but then, thought some poor sod (Wasser, in this case) has been out laying it (Duty Calls!). Tuesday evening, however, turned out to be a respite, the roads were almost clear of snow and there was no wind to chill us, even the back alleys were safe and even I didn't fall over. It was a sensible (in view of the conditions) short(ish) trail that only wandered off tarmac twice. I always learn something... what I had been calling Stoneleigh for the last 50 years (OK, more than 50) was, in fact, Worcester Park. Near to the end I managed to get left behind (OK, again) but, since, John had laid such a clearly marked trail, even I was able to follow it. Back at my car I found that I didn't have to change my utterly dry shoes and bumped into Ardon Provokateur who, I think, tried to run it backwards. For some reason Tosser was at least 20 minutes late. Did he do something completely out of character, like completing the whole run? The generous portions of ultra chunky chips (we forgot that they take longer to cool down) scalded our gobs and so we had to drink the beer faster. Let us hope for a larger pack in future.

Doner

@ The Thyme at the Tavern, Chertsey

Oh, the joys of being a Weybridge Hasher, you cannot buy them in a shop you gotta be here. Tonight, Doner kindly set this trail highlighting all parts of Chertsey for us, as Spring tries to slowly push through. We even had a false trail, and many times we got a bit lost due to clever Doner, on her game. Great run, Grand Master Flash ! .....helping Dingaling out, who was supposed to set this run, but had been ill, and now safely returned. Visitors tonight, were Matt, who works near Heathrow, welcome to our great crowd ! Also, Jo, our runner from Ashford, the lady who works at a Brewer's !! No names needed, good to see you again, cheers ! Lord Tosser was in, so too Wasser, and Tight Git, Pig Pen, Great Bear, Kung Foo Panda, Naked Chef and Top Man. We even had a surprise appearance from Mrs Robinson, recovering from a cracked rib.....oh dear, get well soon, less hugging for you ! Nice to see Pussy Galore, aka Tracy back with us again, make it more of a habit please ! Our Run was a real adventure, and much appreciated, then back to the warm pub to enjoy very tippable tastic beer and lagers at super cheap prices !! Noted, coming back here soon. They have music here too. Gossip, well, Wasser was castigated by Dingaling for calling Doner, a Grand Mattress.....I think he needs an early bed for the night, trussed up too. Master Bates, was busy showing pics of him in a red dress, and Tosser has not picked that next holiday yet. Worzel is off skiing next week, happy piste to you ! Spanish Mistress and Sodden Assets were last seen leaving the pub on their bicycles to make the short journey back home to Laleham. We had a great night, see you next week ! On On...

1768                      Kung Foo Panda                      @ The Old Plough, Stoke D'Abernon                      13/03/2018

I was off ill so no idea who attended or what happened but have been lead to believe by the hare that it was a perfect example of how a hash should be set.

1769                      Dingaling                      @ The Adelaide, Teddington                      20/03/2018

Handy location this, very near to Bushy Park, I wonder if we might be ? A lot of our hardy regulars turned out for this Dingaling run, nice to see them all ! Off towards Teddington town centre, then veering round the may and varied boundaries of The National Physical Laboratory, bordering the park, and then into the park we went, yahoo ! Darkness, and lots of molehills welcomed us, together with a lot of deer, trying to sleep until we ran by, running beneath a canopy of large trees, all 100 years old or a lot more, we ran past the Waterhouse Woodland Garden, towards Hampton and the Thames, and then back towards Hampton Court Gate, saying hello to more deer, as we went. Pig Pen Matt caught Dingaling up here, so all the flour had paid good dividends. Off past The Diana Fountain, and small lake, which have been here since 1713, in the middle of Chestnut Avenue which was designed by Sir Christopher Wren, no less. Beautiful setting it is indeed. We ran past the weeping willows, and mini lake, and Grand Master Doner and Kebab, were stopped by the police and asked what were they doing. The Police were completing their nightly security drive round the park with searchlights, at this time, before closing the main gates to all cars and traffic. We being Dingaling, Doner and Kebab stumbled off trail a bit, near the end, but made it back to the pub for beer and chips, hurrah ! Thanks to Meghan & Ben for looking after us all ! Kebab, get well soon, he has a nasty cold. Lord Tosser, Master Bates, Great Bear, Tight Git, Golden Balls, Naked Chef & Top Man, Spanish Mistress &

Sodden Assets, Megabit, Ard'on Provocateur, all were here for the fun of it ! Wey hey.....Time for the rest of you to come out and play ! Next week.....don't miss it.
